MONDAY, MARCH 21 DATE CHANGED TO MONDAY, MARCH 28, 4-6 p.m.

WORKERS' COMP—KNOW YOUR RIGHTS

Presenter: Anne Rice, Esq., Rice Law Office, PLLC

What is the workers' comp benefit? Do you know what steps to take if you've been injured at work? How does workers' comp interact with retirement contributions, health insurance, and job protection rights? What types of activities might not be covered? Attend this informative workshop to find out the answers and learn about other issues of importance to those in education. Bring your questions.

TUESDAY, MARCH 29, 5-7 p.m.

LIABILITY AND ADVOCACY ISSUES

Presenter: Steve Sacks, NEA-NH Staff Attorney

All school staff encounter difficult students, emotionally charged conflicts and supervision problems as well as questions about sexual harassment in today's schools. Gain an overview of liability issues, and specific suggestions and examples of different approaches.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 6, 5-7 p.m.

MEMBER BENEFITS

Presenter: Mike Reilly, NEA Member Benefits

Membership doesn't cost, it pays. In this workshop you'll learn about the nationally endorsed programs and services designed to save members money and assist them in being well-educated consumers. NEA Member Benefits offers programs ranging from automobile and home heating discounts to insurance and financial programs. Almost anywhere members spend money, NEAMB has a way to save.

THURSDAY, APRIL 21, 4-6 p.m.

EDUCATORS AND FREE SPEECH ISSUES (Including What Educators Need to Know About Using Social Media)

Presenter: Esther Dickinson, NEA-NH Staff Attorney

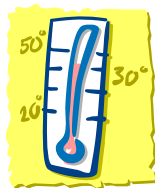

This session gives an overview of the common issues that arise in relation to educators' free speech including speech at work, off duty conduct, and limits of regulating educator speech. We will also discuss the use of social media by educators. We hope to make the session interactive, so please be prepared with your questions.

All workshops are free for NEA-NH members. Professional Development certificates will be issued for each workshop.

Seating is limited—RSVP by Monday, March 14 to Karen Heavener at kheavener@nhnea.org or 603-715-9311.

(Indicate in your reply which session(s) you plan to attend and the name of your local.)
