ESSENTIAL CONTRACT LANGUAGE
TO ENGAGE, RECRUIT, AND SUPPORT NEW EDUCATORS

New hire orientation

It is essential for local Association leaders or staff to be able to meet new employees so they can introduce the union, explain employee rights, and describe the resources available from the union to foster professional growth. The strongest language ensures the Association has contact with new employees before the school year begins.

Access to school work sites and employee meetings

It is crucial for Association representatives to be able to meet on a regular basis with members and potential members. Building personal relationships is the only way to engage members, help them feel a part of the Association, and also increase the power of the Association. Contract language can support this goal by ensuring that Association representatives have unencumbered access to employees in school buildings. In addition, contract language can set forth guidelines that enable the Association to schedule meetings and events at times convenient for school employees.

5.06 Representatives or agents of the Association may transact official business on school property and may visit schools before, during, and after the school day, provided that this shall not interfere with or interrupt normal school operations. Representatives leaving their assigned school(s) must inform their building principal or his/her designee and shall report their presence to the building principal or his/her designee at the school visited, in keeping with the provisions of building policy and the Ohio Revised Code (unless such person is an employee of the Board assigned to or scheduled to such building at such time).

Access to member information and communication with members

A local or state Association must be able to communicate directly with members, both in and out of the school building—via phone, mail, or electronic communications. The Association can facilitate this process by negotiating language that requires the school district to provide the Association with employee contact information on a regular basis, thus ensuring its records are up to date and enabling the Association to communicate with members and potential members. Communicating with members as a group is also vital, so ideally language should also guarantee that the Association can use bulletin boards, staff mailboxes, email, or other means to maintain a consistent and ongoing presence in members’ lives.

North Slope Borough Education Association (AK)

Partisan political materials shall not be distributed through the school district’s mail or e-mail service. Reducing college debt Student loan debt for new teachers is a sizeable burden for educators and is a significant problem for students seeking to become teachers; often the debt load leads them to decide not to enter the profession or abandon it after several years. In many states, teacher compensation has fallen substantially in comparison to comparable private-sector jobs. In addition, minimal salary increases have not kept pace with increased health care and other living expenses. As a result, teachers struggle to pay off their student loans and many feel they have no choice but to leave the teaching profession. Several affiliates have negotiated language that goes beyond the traditional, and often limited, tuition reimbursement language and focuses on helping new teachers reduce their education-related debt.

Carrabec Education Association (ME)
Teachers may apply for interest deferred loans from the district for support of pursuit of education related advanced degrees not directly related to their current or anticipated teaching assignments (administration, educational specialists). Such loans may be made at the discretion of the superintendent within available resources of the budget.

a. Loan forgiveness would be based on serving the district in the newly certified/licensed area.
   Loan forgiveness would be pro-rated over the same time period as the loan was taken over and be part of the teachers compensation package.

b. Loan deferment would be based on continuing in a teacher role with the district.
